John Wanamaker's Store, Philadelphia.

These are the First Days of the Fall Business,

already the hum of activity begins. We launch the busy season with that prove to be strangely low. A few of these have been in store some days, but, to give everybody a fair chance, we held the announcements until the return of people from their holidays.

Some Special Things

A good lot of first-rate Jerseys at $2.25. These are all black. The colors are $2.50.

A Black Dress Silk at 75 cents, that until recently was always $1.00.

A fine Black Rhadama, 22 inches wide, at $1.50.

Half-wool Black Dress Goods at 12½ cents, which is just half-price.

All-wool stylish Plaid Suiting, 42 inches, at 50 cents. We sold the same at $1.00.

Another in stripes at 65 cents. Not dear at $1.00.

A quality of Lupin's Cashmere for 50 cents (all wool). The new tariff will prevent this quality from ever again selling at this price.

A Black Albatross at 25 cents, exactly half-price.

A fine Black Camel's Hair, 46 inches wide, at 60 cents.

A good 36-inch all-wool Cashmere at 40 cents.

An excellent Black Cashmere, all-wool, a yard wide, at 45c.

A very few much admired Embroidered Robes at one-third off of usual price.

A Bleached Muslin, full yard wide, for 10c. The best we ever had at that price.

The best Twilled, All-Wool Red Flannel we ever sold for 25c.

The best Canton Flannel for 12½c. We never could get so good a quality at the price before.

An extraordinary lot of Towels at 25c.

Eight lots of Ladies' and Children's Hose that are on our counters at 25 per cent. under prices.

These lots of Shoes that are amazingly desirable for the prices:

250 pairs Women's Straight Goat Button, $4.35.

172 pairs Women's Straight Goat Button, $3.25.

245 pairs Women's Curacoa Kid Button, $4.25.

186 pairs Women's French Kid Button, $5.00.

152 pairs Women's Kid Slippers, $1.25.

112 pairs Women's Kid Ties, $2.00.

110 pairs Women's French Kid Oxford Ties, $3.25.

141 pairs Women's Front Lace Walking Boots, $3.25.

131 pairs Women's Front Lace Walking Boots, $4.50.

150 pairs Women's French Kid Button Boots, $5.25.

China and Glassware we hardly dare to risk saying anything about, as the lots announced are nearly always sold out in a few hours of the day they are presented. Watch the city daily papers for the announcements, and if these lots are sold when you come do not be disappointed, as we have new lots in every day or two.

In Furniture. Young couples should see

The new Ash Suite of Bed Room Furniture for $25.
The same goods in Cherry for $28.

Our Works at present turn us out only four suites per day of these goods, so that first come, first served. Nothing like this has ever been done in Philadelphia before.

A fine frame Body Brussels Carpet at $1.25 that we are willing to endorse as a good thing.

We are not permitted to give the makers' names. The goods are new this season, and fifty patterns at least to choose from.

The first Fall Offering of Ladies' Robes are all-wool, of ample material, in nine varieties, dark, rich hues, and the new patterns are on the palm-leaf order. The effect is much the same, if not a full equivalent, as though an expensive Cashmere Shawl were dissected and made into a robe, as is often done. The expense being infinitely less—$25.

Also a few Wrapper Patterns, Persian, and with a decided Oriental effect. The olive, old gold and rich, dark hues are subdued in a broad border of consistent but curious formation, 10 to 11 yards each. $2.00 per yard.

There are other lots equally interesting, and new things daily arriving.

Samples of Dress Goods sent by mail; a "Postal" will receive immediate attention.

New Life

is given by using BROWN'S IRON BITTERS. In the Winter it strengthens and warms the system; in the Spring it enriches the blood and conquers disease; in the Summer it gives tone to the nerves and digestive organs; in the Fall it enables the system to stand the shock of sudden changes.

In no way can disease be so surely prevented as by keeping the system in perfect condition. BROWN'S IRON BITTERS ensures perfect health through the changing seasons, it disarms the danger from impure water and miasmatic air, and it prevents Consumption, Kidney and Liver Disease, &c.

H. S. Berlin, Esq., of the well-known firm of H. S. Berlin & Co., Attorneys, Le Droit Building, Washington, D. C., writes, Dec. 5th, 1881:

Gentlemen: I take pleasure in stating that I have used Brown's Iron Bitters for malaria and nervous troubles, caused by overwork, with excellent results.

Beware of imitations. Ask for BROWN'S IRON BITTERS, and insist on having it. Don't be imposed on with something recommended as "just as good." The genuine is made only by the Brown Chemical Co. Baltimore, Md.

SELECT STORY.

ELIGIBLE BOARDING PLACE.

"No hotel?" said Mr. Percival Payne.

"Nothing in the shape of one," answered his friend Lucius Warden, with the subdued triumph of one who announces a startling fact.

"I never heard of such a thing in my life," said Payne.

"Nor I, neither," serenely remarked Warden.

"But how do you account for it?" demanded the would-be tourist, smiting his forehead in despair.

"I don't account for it at all," said Mr. Warden, surveying the nails which he had just been carefully trimming with his penknife, "except that nobody knows anything about the place as yet. There's a factory—wall paper, I believe, or something of that sort—and a cigar shop and a beer shop, and two thread and needle stores, and a post-office where the mails come twice a week; and there's the Magalloway river all carpeted over with water-lillies, and half a dozen glorious little trout streams running into it, and the finest bit of scenery you ever saw. But—there's no hotel!"

"But where's a fellow to stay?" helplessly demanded Payne.

"Get an outfit and camp out, as I did," said Warden, cheerfully. "A blanket; a canvas tent, with pegs and loops; a little smudge of bran, or pine needles to keep the mosquitoes off at night, and—"

"But I don't enjoy camping out," vehemently remonstrated Payne. "It is all very well for those who like it, but I'm not one of that sort. I like four good walls, a feather pillow and regular meals served three times a day."

"Well, then, look here," said Warden, "go to the Widow Buck's. She takes boarders now and then."

"Who is the Widow Buck?" asked Payne.

"That I don't know," replied his friend.

"And where does she live?"

"There you have me again."

"Man alive! are you crazy?" despairingly questioned Payne. "How am I to find her?"

"Inquire," responded Mr. Warden, as he shut up his knife and replaced it in his vest pocket. "Go to Maize Ford—11 a. m., stage coach—through in one day. Ask for the widow Buck's! Bless my heart! Nothing in the wide world could be easier. I have always heard that people got good food there and comfortable beds. And Maizle Ford is a perfect little paradise when once you get there."

"Well," said Payne, dejectedly, "it seems a wild goose chase, but I've a mind to try it. A man can but come back again."

It was rather early in the season for the conventional operation known to the American public as "summering," but Percival Payne, being a bachelor of independent fortune and cultivated tastes, felt that he could do as he pleased. And it was rather a luxury to anticipate the first mad rush of travel, when all the seats are engaged, the cosy corner taken and the most desirable points of observation usurped.

So he packed his valise, laid up his fishing tackle, laid in a great store of crayons and sketching paper, and started for the far Northern wilderness of Maizle Ford.

Of course the train was late—trains are always late—and it was 4 o'clock in the afternoon when Mr. Payne found himself perched up in an open-box wagon alongside of two trunks; a package of salt codfish, a mail bag and a pretty girl, with eyes as soft as black pools of water, and one of those old, fringy hats of black straw all covered with loops and ribbons that makes people look so picturesque.

"Where do we meet the stage?" said Mr. Payne, as he settled himself so as to inconvenience his pretty little neighbor as little as possible.

The driver stared at him.

"This 'ere's the stage," said he. "Git up, Sorrel!"

Mr. Payne started.

"But stages have tops," said he.

"This 'ere stage don't," says the driver.

It was a trying situation—steep uphill part of the way and steep downhill the rest, with the codfish and mail bag alternating tumbling into Mr. Payne's lap and the pretty girl laughing in her sleeve at his embarrassment.

"I'm very rude, I know," said she, "but if you'd tie that codfish to the back of the wagon with your fishing-line it wouldn't trouble you so much."

"A good idea," said Payne briskly. "Thanks, very much, for suggesting it."

"I've traveled over this road before," said the pretty girl, laughing.

"Are you going to Maizle Ford?" said Mr. Payne, with a sudden gleam of animation.

"No;" said the pretty girl, "to Catley's Dam."

"Perhaps you know something about Maizle Ford?" hazarded our hero.

"Oh, yes," said the nymph with the dark eyes. "It's a lovely place. I used to live there before I went into the factory at Catley's.

"Do you know the Widow Buck?" he asked, with interest.

"Very well," nodded the pretty girl.

"I am going there to look for board," said Mr. Payne.

"I hope you'll be suited," said the girl.

And they began to talk about the tall, blue crested mountains, which were beginning to close in around them.

The dewy-eyed damsel had read Longfellow; she knew all about Thoreau; she was even "up" in Ruskin, and she expressed herself with grace and spirit, which set Mr. Payne to wondering if all the Maine girls were equally cultivated and beautiful.

And then the codfish tumbled down again and had to be tightened anew, and by that time they had come to a house in the midst of a lonely belt of woods, which the driver said was "Catley's Dam" upon which the pretty girl disappeared into the purple twilight and Mr. Payne and the codfish went on, sorrowful, much jolted and alone.

A glimpse of the beautiful Magalloway river by moonlight; the cry of a wild bird in the woods; the noise of hidden cascades; a blur of lighted windows, which the driver said was the factory; down a blind lane and checking the tired horses at a one-storied stone house behind a wall of cedar trees, and then the Jehu cried out:

"Now, then! Here we be! Widow Buck's!"

Mr. Payne got stiffly out, and helped to unload the various paraphernalia of travel which belonged to him—all of them by this time considerably flavored with salt codfish.

"Perhaps you had better wait," said he as the driver turned round and chirruped to his horse.

"What for?" demanded the man.

"In case Mrs. Buck should not be able to accommodate me or—"

"Oh, it's all right," said the driver. "She'll take you in. Naomi would have told you else."

And away he drove, leaving our hero alone in the spectral moonlight, with a pile of luggage at his feet and a gaunt dog smelling at the skirts of his coat.

"Who's Naomi?" said Mr. Payne, addressing the moon. "And what would she have told me?"

He raised an old-fashioned brass knocker that hung at the door and rattled it briskly. The gaunt dog, aroused to a sense of his duty, left off snuffing and began to bark. Presently a tall, thin woman, with a red pocket-handkerchief tied over her head, with a kerosene lamp in her hand, opened the door.

"Oh," said she, peering sharply at him, "you're the young man from the city, are you?"

With the initiative thus taken out of his hands Mr. Payne could only incline his head.

"All them traps your'n?" demanded the Widow Buck, abruptly.

"Yes, madam," Mr. Payne admitted.

"Humph!" said the widow. "Pears to me it's purty tol'ble cheeky of you, mister, to take it for granted you'd be asked to stay."

"I thought, madam—"

"I'm a talkin' now," said the widow, sharply. "To begin right straight at the beginning, we don't know nothing about you. You may be a bank burglar or a counterfeiter, for all we know."

"My references, madam—"

"Yes, I know," said the widow. "And them very references is most likely forged. But I'm willin' to be reasonable. How old be you?"

And Mr. Payne, secretly wondering if that was the way they managed things in Maine, answered meekly:

"Two and thirty."

"Ever been married before?" sharply questioned the widow.

"Certainly not, madam! I am a single man!" answered Mr. Payne, with a justifiable spark of indignation in his manner.

"Any business?" went on his catechist.

"None, madam."

"Well, I like that," said the widow, with a scornful sniff. "Like your impudence to come here and own to such a disgrace as that! Expect to live on me, hey?"

"Madam!" gasped poor Mr. Payne.

"How d'ye suppose you're ever going to keep my Naomi, even if I allowed you to marry her?" sharply went on the woman, "what I shan't do, and don't you think it! She don't care for you, anyway! When she heard you was coming she made up her mind to stop off at Catley's Dam, just to get rid of the sight of you. There! So just pick up your traps and go back again in the way you come! You won't never be a son-in-law of mine."

But while widow Buck was volubly uttering these last glib sentences a faint light began to dawn on Mr. Payne's semi-obscured brain.

"I think, Mrs. Buck," said he, "that you must be laboring under a little misapprehension. My name is Percival Payne. I am from Boston. I was recommended here, as eligible boarding place, by Mr. Warden, of 15 Peppermint place."

Mrs. Buck nearly dropped her lamp in consternation.

"Well, I never!" said she, instantly flinging the door wide open. "Please to walk in, sir. I'll send the boy out after the trunks and things in half a minute. I beg your pardon, I'm sure, for mistaking you for Peleg Driggs, from Lowell, as was comin' here after Naomi! She works in the Lowell mills, Naomi does. To think how I ever could make such a blunder! Do walk in, sir."

And Mr. Payne was promptly introduced to a delightful little "interior" of red carpet, round table spread for tea, shaded lamplight, and a fire of logs on an open hearth, to keep out the damp of the summer evening.

After 10 o'clock, when the wearied traveler was in bed, in a pretty little room, where there was an eight day clock in a cherry wood case, and a carpet made of woven rags, he heard the opening and shutting of doors below, the clear sound of a familiar voice—the voice of his black-eyed traveling companion.

"Well, mother, did he come?" she asked.

"Peleg didn't come," said the Widow Buck. "But a young gentleman from the city came. And don't you b'leve Naomi, I took him for Peleg, and I peppered away at him well!"

"O, mother, what will he think?" cried the softer young voice.

"I asked his pardon, of course," said the old lady. "And he took it all as a joke."

And when Peleg himself, the next day put in an appearance, he was summarily dismissed, while Mr. Percival Payne and the fair Naomi were sitting by a trout pool in the cool woods below; for Naomi knew all about the haunts and nooks of the neighborhood, and handled a fishing-pole most skillfully.

Mr. Payne liked Maizle Ford, and stayed there all summer, and as there were several boarders in the stone house, Miss Naomi concluded not to return to factory life in the Lowell mills, but to stay and help her mother with the housework; and when autumn came she was engaged—to Mr. Percival Payne.

"The sweetest wild flower in all the Northern woods," he wrote enthusiastically to his friend Warden.

Warden went up to Maizle Ford. He was introduced to Miss Naomi. He agreed with his friend.

"She's a little jewel," said he. "You are a lucky fellow, Payne. But I didn't know, when you wrote me that you were so well suited with the accommodations here—"

"That I was suiting myself for life," interrupted Payne. "But you see that such was the fact."

Italian Doctors.

The October Century contains some amusing experience of "A Foreigner in Florence," who says of Italian doctors: "Physicians have, like judges of the criminal courts, no social position and no knowledge of medicine, according to our ideas. They are, as a rule, far behind the age. They still cling blindly to bleeding,—unless they have changed during the last few years,—and weaken their patients by the old system of dieting. I have seen cases conducted with such ignorance of the commonest laws of nature as would make any of our physicians faint with horror. Heat, starvation and dirt are their general remedies for almost everything. In cases of scarlet fever,—which are not common, however,—they order the doors and windows to be carefully shut, that no breath of air may get to the patient—absolutely drawing the bed curtains around them; forbid washing of any description, even to the hands and face, and no change of bed or body linen during the entire illness.

"There is one malady prevalent in Italy which I sincerely believe to be produced, nine times out of ten, by these doctors, and that is miliary fever. Unless a patient's symptoms in the beginning of an illness indicates the disease very clearly, the doctor, on the principle of 'when in no doubt play trumps,' pronounces it 'miliare'; but there being no eruption, which is an evidence of that disease, they regard it as suppressed, and so, very dangerous. Then they proceed to produce a rash by covering the poor sufferer with as many blankets as he can bear, excluding every breath of air from the room (canning him, so to speak), and then forbidding any nourishment saving the weakest of weak broths. Now, as this special fever is usually brought on by overheating, and consequently be treated by a cooling system, they succeed in producing the disease in its full glory rash and all, and they then set about curing it, which of course, becomes a doubtful undertaking, so weak is the patient from heat and fasting.

"A friend of mine, spending a few weeks in Florence, was taken ill with what proved afterward to be an internal cancer. She sent for Doctor Z—— one of the most noted of the Florentine doctors. It was August and very hot, and his orders were not only to shut the air and cover herself with blankets, but to remain entirely immovable—not even raising her hand to brush a fly away,—and then, becoming nearly crazy with nervousness and weakness, she sent for an English physician. If you had seen his look of horror when he came into the room!

"'Open the window,' he almost shouted; 'take off those coverings; get right up, and lie on the sofa. In a week you will be able to go on to Paris.'

"And in a week she did go on to Paris.'

"The Italians love medicine, and have the greatest faith in it. They take it not only for every little ailment but after a fit of anger or grief."

An Indian's Ultimatum

Senator Vest and Delegate Maginnis of the Indian commission, returned lately from St. Mary's mission, Bitter Root Valley, at the Flathead agency, Missoula, Montana. The Indians refused to sell any portion of their reserve or to move to another reservation. They said they had no grievances and were highly pleased with their agent, Ronan. All they desired was to keep whisky away from their young men. The St. Ignatius mission schools, also on the reservation, were visited by the commission. The schools are well conducted by Sisters of Charity and priests. About fifty Indian girls and the same number of boys are being educated, and they show remarkable proficiency in the different classes. Senator Vest speaks highly of teachers and pupils.

The council at St. Mary's mission was rather dramatic. Charlos, a Flathead chief, with a few hundred Indians, has steadily refused to go upon a reservation. The Indians cultivate a few ranches, but are steadily growing poorer, and the valley is thickly settled by whites. The reservation Indians and the whites want these Indians removed to a reservation, to avoid anticipated trouble. In the council Senator Vest and Delegate Maginnis sat opposite the chief. Through an interpreter Senator Vest explained his mission.

Charlos, who is a noted brave, gazed defiantly at the senator for a moment, and then began his reply: He said: "We are poor and weak. You want to place your foot upon our neck and grind our face in the dust. But I will not go. I will go to the plains."

"Nez Perces Joseph tried to go to the plains," broke in Senator Vest. "There are no plains now. The white men are as thick as leaves from ocean to ocean. If you do not get a title to your lands here, like white men, soldiers will come some day and place you upon a reservation."

"My hands and those of my people are free from the white man's blood," said Charlos. "When the Nez Perces came here we protected the whites. Why does the white man take his heart from us now?" Then he took off his hat, threw it upon the floor, stamped upon it and, with blazing eyes gazing upon Senator Vest, shouted: "You may take Charlos to a reservation but there will be no breath in his nostrils! Charlos will be dead. He will never go there alive.

Senator Vest answered the tawny chieftain, in language as emphatic as his own, that he must obey the white man's law as implicitly as did the white man: if he did not he must go where the government chooses to send him. Before the council broke up Charlos agreed to go to Washington with Agent Ronan, and talk the matter with the Great Father.

A sceptic who was badgering a simple minded old man about miracles and Balaam's ass, finally said: "How is it possible for an ass to talk like a man?" "Well," replied the honest old believer, with meaning emphasis, "I don't see why it ain't as easy for an ass to talk like a man as it is for a man to talk like an ass."

BLIGHTED ANTICIPATIONS.—A colored man o'er whose head about seventy summers had passed, was quietly but earnestly wrestling with a watermelon near the market, when he was disturbed by the appearance of a small boy of his color. The boy sat down on a box and looked grudginly at the melon, and the old man looked up at him and queried:

"Young man, I reckons I could give you half dis mellyon an' hab plenty left."

"Thanks, uncle."

"But I shan't do it, kase it might be de spilin' of ye. In de fust place, de law am plain an' cl'ar on de p'int dat what I leave behind goes to my nateral heirs. In de second place, a pusson without anticipashun mus' be dreffully onhappy. As de case now stands you anticipate. You anticipate dat half dis yere mellyon will stuff me full an' I'll have to leave all de rest. You anticipate dat I'll git choked on de seeds, or git sun-struck, or be 'tacked by de colic. As de mellyon gradually disappears you'll anticipate dat I won't gnaw de rinds werry clus. As de rinds disappear you'll console yerself wid de fack dat de seeds am left. As I wrap de seeds up in my handkerchief you'll reckon on lickin' de bo'd whar' de mellyon was cut an' eaten, but if I lif' up dat bo'd an' gin ye a whack on de back ye'll anticipate better dan to crowd in whar ye ain't wanted. Now you skip!"—M Quad.

JUST IN TIME.—Any day in Summer one may meet around the ferry dock an old lake Captain who was once crossing Saginaw Bay in his schooner with such a gale howling after him that no one expected the craft to reach harbor. As the gale reached its climax, the Captain announced to the mate beside him:

"Mr. Thomas, if we come safe out this I am done with whiskey."

The mate said it was the same with him, and the Captain presently continued:

"And I'll never utter another oath."

The mate agreed to also stop swearing, and this warmed the old man up to promise:

"And I solemnly declare, Mr. Thomas, that I'll leave off chewing and smoking."

"There's another thing, Captain," shouted the mate after awhile.

"What's that?"

"You might promise to leave off lying."

"Yes, I—hold on—hold on! No, I'll be hanged if I do! There's blue sky over there and we've seen the worst of it! Git those men on deck ready to put her about, and if you ever tell anybody of this I'll pulverize you to a jelly!"—Detroit Free Press.

Bill Arp's Idea of the Change System in Politics.

One time there was an old tramp going around perusing the country and fooling the people out of a living, and one day he got the odor of a good dinner as he neared the farm house, and so he pretended he was a clock-tinker, and the unsuspecting old farmer got him to work on his clock for his dinner. Well, he got his dinner first, and then told the old man to stand up in front of the clock and watch the swing of the pendulum, and every time it went backwards and forwards to keep time with his hand and say: "Here she goes and there she goes," while he (the tramp) would stand back at the door and get the beat of it by his ear, and to tell whether it was going too fast or too slow. So the old man stood up and began his little song; "Here she goes and there she goes; here she goes and there she goes," and he kept it up about ten minutes, and on looking around, he found the tramp was gone. These office-seekers scheme and the plot and toot first one horn and then another and then another and bob up serenely like a kildee on a clod of dirt until they get an office, and about the time they get fixed in it good, and have their feet on the banisters, and a pipe in their mouth, a change has to be made and over they go. "Here she goes and there she goes."

It really begins to look as though the trembling and quaking old earth is not a very safe place to live in. To most people, however, emigration out of it is attended with such certain uncertainty, as it were, that few care to hasten their departure. But look back through the year and see what a record of disaster it has made. Here at home we may start with the burning of the Newhall House, in January. Seventy-seven were killed in the Braidwood mine disaster in February. Despatches reported "fifty or more" drowned in winter floods at one time. Tornadoes in April and May killed nearly three hundred. Decoration day brought the Brooklyn Bridge disaster. Recently we have the Carlyon disaster, the Minnesota tornado, and many minor casualities; including the Riverdale, explosion on the Hudson. Look, too, at the great calamities abroad. By the sinking of the Cimbria four hundred and thirty-four lives were lost; floods in Germany and Hungary caused the death of two hundred; the burning of the circus in Poland killed two hundred and sixty-eight; the Mt. Ararat Avalanche killed one hundred and fifty; English fishing-fleet disasters three hundred and seventy-three; explosions at Bessieres, France, and Scutari, three hundred; the launce disaster at Glasgow one hundred and fifty; in the Ischia earthquakh perished, according to estimates, from two thousand to eight thousand; cholera has carried off 12,000 in Egypt; and now as a crowning horror, is the great eruption of Java, whereby to 50,000 75,000—no one can tell how many thousands—are swallowed up. It's a record that almost staggers faith in the benificence of the world.—Buffalo Express.

THE SHERIFF.—A man who was much harassed by his creditors related a very strange dream that he had had. 'I dreamed that I was dead,' he said. I thought that I passed away peacefully and calmly, and when the mist cleared away from before my eyes I was in that better land where the weary are supposed to be at rest. I was speechless with joy and for a moment stood enraptured with the beautiful scene that met my eyes and the angel music that came to my ears. Then I started down the golden street and the first man I met was the sheriff.—Middletown Transcript.

THE COLUMBIAN.

BLOOMSBURG, PA.

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER, 28, 1883.

DEMOCRATIC STATE TICKET.

FOR AUDITOR GENERAL,
ROBERT TAGGART,
of Warren.

FOR STATE TREASURER,
JOSEPH POWELL,
of Bradford.

DEMOCRATIC COUNTY TICKET.

FOR DISTRICT ATTORNEY.
R. BUCKINGHAM.
OF BLOOMSBURG.

FOR COUNTY SURVEYOR.
SAMUEL NEYHARD.
OF BLOOMSBURG.

The Delaware County Record, a staunch Republican newspaper, published in Republican Chairman Cooper's own county, thus fixes the responsibility where it belongs: Governor Pattison used but a rightful prerogative and constitutional authority when he called the Legislature together to perform a neglected duty; the Senate majority exceeded its rightful authority, unnecessarily prolonged the extra session by its persistent and dogged refusal to confer and co-operate with the House upon the apportionment issue, and committed the additional folly of issuing its "ultimatum" that it would have it's own way or there should be no apportionment, as made and provided by laws and the constitution.

Get on Board.

The Democrats are harmonizing in New York and will elect their State ticket. The Democratic nomination for governor in Maryland insures harmony and success there. In Virginia the Mahoneites give it up. New Jersey has only had one Republican governor since 1860, and will never have another; Abbett will be elected. In Ohio Hoadley's election becomes more likely every day and some of the "visiting Republican statesmen" who went out there from Pennsylvania recently to spy the ground concede Hoadley's election. Pennsylvania Democrats should not wait for the returns from other States. Get on board.

Pay Your Tax.

Under the new Constitution of Pennsylvania an absolute requirement of every voter over twenty-two years of age, is that he shall have paid a State and County tax within two years of the election at which he shall offer to vote. Formerly this tax could be paid on election day, and in many places voters were never challenged on account of non-payment of it. But now it must be paid at least thirty days before the election, so that the only time left to voters is between now and October 6th, and we therefore earnestly urge upon all voters to make certain of their right to vote, to hunt up the collector and pay their taxes at once. Those who paid their taxes last year are not required to do so this year to secure their vote, but let all such be sure and hunt up their receipts. Their tax required to be paid is very light, and no voter should neglect this important matter; to do so will endanger his franchise.

Hon. Joseph Powell.

DEMOCRATIC CANDIDATE FOR THE OFFICE OF STATE TREASURER OF PENNSYLVANIA.

The first Moravian Brethren who emigrated to this country about the middle of the last century, crossed the ocean at different intervals of time, and in larger or smaller companies. Whenever they had obtained full control of a transport ship by charter or otherwise, our forefathers never failed to introduce among the passengers on board a complete social and religious organization, corresponding as nearly as might be with that established in their congregations at home. Hence the term used in the reports of the day, die See Gemeinen, the "Sea Congregations."

Regular times were set apart in these floating congregations for their various religious meetings; chaplains, teachers, exhorters and nurses were provided, and system was carried into the minutest details of life. Each member was assigned to a mess and hammock company, and his place and duty in every contingency were designated. They all felt that they formed a united band of followers of the same Lord, to serve whom in a new field of labor they had forsaken their homes and their native land.

The days spent on the ocean were not to be wasted in idleness or inactivity, but must be employed in preparing, instructing and invigorating their minds, and in promoting their growth in grace. Although sickness, storms and other perils of the sea interfered with prescribed rules, yet they carried across the waves not only their God in their hearts, but some of the most blessed practices and observances they had been accustomed to at home. Ship life proved to them a season of rich mental and spiritual activity and enjoyment, and combined as it was with order and discipline, it had a powerful tendency to increase their bodily comfort and well-being.

The first "Sea Congregation" left London in March, and arrived in Philadelphia in June 1742. Count Zinzendorf himself had preceded them about six months before, and during twenty previous months small companies, partly direct from Europe and partly by way of Georgia, had been their forerunners. Some preliminary arrangements for their reception had been made, and their arrival was anxiously looked for by about twenty-five or thirty Brethren and Sisters resident for the time being in Pennsylvania.

The responsible task of fitting out and organizing the expedition had been entrusted to Brother Spangenberg, then residing in London, and the selection could not have fallen upon a more suitable individual, for to his other qualifications he joined that of personal experience. Seven years before he had fitted out the first Moravian colony which went to Georgia, had himself accompanied it across the Atlantic, had spent four years in Georgia, Pennsylvania and the West Indies, and had several voyages between those colonies, some of which were attended with more than ordinary privations and dangers. He was now, after Zinzendorf's departure at the head of affairs of the church in England, and had a serious responsibility resting on him. Yet he did not decline the additional weight. but applied himself to his new duty with the accustomed devotedness, alacrity, foresight and attention to details.

The majority of the "Sea Congregation" consisted of Germans, many of whom had been selected to replace the first colony at Pilgerruh in Holstein, but being refused admission by the government at Copenhagen, they now proceeded to America.

They reached London in February and were not only received and entertained by their local brethren but in the organization of the "Sea Congregation," which sailed on the ship Catherine, there were included seven families who joined them there. These included Samuel Powell, with his wife Martha, and Joseph Powell with his wife Martha, who came from Shropshire, on the border of Wales. After all the perils and hardships and delays of a sea voyage in those days these good Brethren landed in this country, the Powells first preaching at New Haven and holding impressive religious discussion with the students and Professors of Yale and journeying toward New York from New Greenwich on foot, reuniting with their ship's company in New York harbor and sailing thence to Philadelphia from where they journeyed to Bethlehem, the chief of the Moravian settlements.

Of these Powell brothers Joseph was the great-grandfather of Joseph Powell, of Towanda, Bradford County, Pa., who is now the candidate of the Democratic party for State Treasurer. He was active and prominent as a Moravian missionary for years after his landing and settlement in this country. Among the Indians and the Negroes of Jamaica and at the various missions of his church he served the holy cause in which he had enlisted. His wife died in Bethlehem and is buried there. He himself being sent by the church to the Indian Station, Wechquednach, Conn., on the confines of New York state, died in Sharon, Litchfield County, Conn., and in 1859 the Moravian historical society erected a monument above his grave taking up into it the stone which his Indian parishoners had set over his grave with the inscription of their affection. His son Steven Powell, was a soldier of the Revolution and in 1798 emigrated from Duchess County, N. Y. to Bradford County, Pa., after the birth of Joseph C. Powell, the father of the subject of the present sketch. He was a farmer and a man of mark. Prominent in the organization of the county, he became quite conspicuous in its politics and was from time to time, elected, against adverse partisan majorities, sheriff, county commissioner, prothonotary, and member of the legislature. His son Joseph Powell, was born in Towanda in 1828, and was brought up on a farm and given a common school and academic education. At the early age of eighteen he entered upon mercantile pursuits as clerk in a store, and in 1852 began upon his own account the business which he has successfully conducted—that of general merchandising. In 1866 he became connected with the purchase of coal and timber lands in Bradford county and as treasurer of the company managed its concerns. These included the erection and running for several years of a tannery to use up the lumber cut from the lands, as well as the timbering of the tract and the subsequent operation of the mines. In all of these he has displayed singular business tact and prudence.

In 1863, for the convenience of the general public, the First National Bank of Towanda was organized, and Mr. Powell, as one of the foremost business men of the place, was an original stockholder. He was elected president in 1870, to fill a vacancy caused by the death of E. H. Smith, and has remained in the position ever since. Besides these enterprises Mr. Powell is connected with an establishment for the manufacture of agricultural implements in Towanda, and he has always been a farmer. In these varied pursuits he has been uniformly successful, bringing to them that genius of common sense, sound business principles, intelligence, thrift and comprehension which are needed in the administration of public as well as private affairs. Mr. Powell is no politician, and has never sought office. During the war he was an earnest supporter of the Union cause. He contributed liberally to the comfort of the soldiers in the field, not only by subscriptions to the Christain Commission, Patriot Daughters and kindred associations, but by more immediate help; many of the soldier boys who went out from Bradford county carrying in their knapsacks a blanket from "Powell's store," the gift of its proprietor. Though specially exempted from military service and relieved from conscription, he insisted upon procuring and paying for a substitute, whose military bearing he watched with great solicitude and satisfaction. He took issue with and separated from the Republican party on its reconstruction policy, and in 1874, without his knowledge and despite his declination, he was nominated for Congress by the Democrats of his district and elected in the face of a heavy Republican majority. He served in the 54th Congress with an unusually large and influential Democratic delegation from Pennsylvania, and was highly popular with his colleagues. On the Committees on Private Land Claims and on Accounts he was attentive, industrious and influential, and on the floor he never failed to faithfully represent and attend to the business of his constituents. When the repeal of the resumption-of-specie-payment act was attempted he kept steadily at his post to prevent it; all the measures of economy urged by the Democrats in that memorable Congress had his hearty support, and in the turbulent days of the disputed presidential election he stood by the right with unfaltering zeal and firmness. In 1876 he was re-nominated, but of course failed of election, in view of the adverse party majority in his district. In 1881 he was named for the State Treasurer nomination at the Williamsport Convention, and went on there to withdraw his name. He came to Harrisburg this year for the same purpose, but the earnest wishes of his friends prevailed against it, and the pressure from all parts of the state for his nomination indicated to him his duty to yield his personal preferences to the wishes of his party.

Mr. Powell is a member of the Presbyterian congregation in Towanda. He was married in 1859 to a step daughter of Hon. H. W. Tracy (a member of Congress in 1861), and has a family of four daughters and one son. He has always resided in Towanda.

The Philadelphia Press says that the nomination of Jeffries for controller by the republicans of that city last week, is a blunder, and admits that his election is in doubt.

Jabez Payne, district land agent of the Philadelphia and Reading coal and iron company, was attacked and beaten by a gang of unknown masked men near Ashland Saturday evening and robbed of $300. The desperadoes made their escape.

Professor Swift, director of the Warner observatory, discovered a comet last Saturday evening in the constellation Draco. It is a significant fact that the only two comets discovered this year are in the same constellation and so near each other. Professor Swift receives the Warner prize of $250. The wonderfully brilliant northern lights prevented an extended observation of the comet, the motion of which is southwesterly.

To Dyspeptics.

The most common signs of Dyspepsia, or Indigestion, are an oppression at the stomach, nausea, flatulency, water-brash, heart-burn, vomiting, loss of appetite, and constipation. Dyspeptic patients suffer untold miseries, bodily and mental. They should stimulate the digestion, and secure regular daily action of the bowels, by the use of moderate doses of Ayer's Pills.

After the bowels are regulated, one of these Pills, taken each day after dinner, is usually all that is required to complete the cure.

AYER'S PILLS are sugar-coated and purely vegetable—a pleasant, entirely safe, and reliable medicine for the cure of all disorders of the stomach and bowels. They are the best of all purgatives for family use.

How Watch Cases are Made.

The many great improvements introduced in the manufacture of the Jas. Boss' Gold Watch Case, have led to similar improvements in the making of silver cases.

Under the old methods, each part of a silver case was made of several pieces of metal soldered together, requiring a great amount of cutting and soldering, which softened the metal and gave it the pliability of lead rather than the elasticity of silver.

Under the improved methods, each part of the Keystone Silver Watch Case is made of one solid piece of metal hammered into shape. The advantages are readily apparent, for every one knows that hammering hardens the metal while soldering softens it.

To test the superiority of the Keystone Silver Watch Case, take one of 3 oz. weight, press it squarely in the center when closed, and it will not give, while a case of same weight of any other make will give enough to break the crystal. The Keystone Silver Watch Case is made only with silver cap and gold joints.

Send 3 cent stamp to Keystone Watch Case Factories, Philadelphia, Pa., for handsome Illustrated Pamphlet showing how James Boss' and Keystone Watch Cases are made.

PRESENT POWER.
To-Morrow a Long Way off When Help is Wanted To-Day.
Comfort is never in a hurry. Pain and distress are in hot haste. It is to the "friend in need"—the friend who does something now—that the old adage pays the compliment of being "a friend indeed." That they do not keep the sufferer in suspense is the silent excellence of BENSON'S CAPCINE POROUS PLASTERS. The plasters of other days—whether porous or otherwise—said—"Wait until to-morrow: We can promise nothing on the spur of the moment." But pain unrelieved, like hope deferred, maketh the heart sick. Benson's plasters act on application. They permeate, soothe, warm and heal, containing, as they do, chemical and medical agents of the highest efficiency. Their motto is NOW, and the genuine have the word CAPCINE cut in the middle of each plaster. Price 25 cents. Seabury & Johnson, Chemists, New York. Sept. 7-4w d

Notice to Subscribers Outside the County.

About two weeks ago statements were sent out to every subscriber outside of the county who owes anything on subscription. Up to to this time but very few have responded. As we have to pay postage on all such papers we must insist on a compliance with our terms which are strictly in advance. We cannot afford to pay the postage on the papers, send several bills and pay postage on them, and then run the risk of losing the subscription money besides. Our request is but fair, and as very few have complied with it, we are forced to give notice that all papers going outside of the county that are not paid for by October 15th will be stopped. We dislike to print duns in the paper, but when our private requests are ignored there is no other alternative.

Personal.

What we said last week in reference to the Conyngham schools we copied from an exchange. It is not correct that all of the Centralia class passed at the second examination as only twenty-five per cent. of it was successful. Only three passed at the second examination who passed at the first in all of the branches except Theory of Teaching but came so nearly passing in that that at the second examination the required percentage was made. The Centralia schools are not yet supplied with teachers

The constable of Franklin township on Monday morning, reported a road in that township as being in bad condition. After learning the facts Judge Elwell made the following remarks:

Where a road has been for a long time in bad condition, the law presumes that the public officers have notice of that fact. Their office imposes upon them the duty of making such examination occasionally as will put them in possession of knowledge as to the condition of the road. If an accident happens to the road by a severe rain or by any unforseen cause, the supervisor would not be responsible without notice, unless he left the road too long in that state; if he did, then the law would presume that he had notice. If this road (opened some four years ago, and nearly a mile long) is so narrow that it is impossible for two teams to pass (having but two, and perhaps insufficient, turnouts), then the needs of the public are not met. The supervisor will consider this return a sufficient notice, and the constable who makes it (Mr. Manhart) may inform him that it is the opinion of the court that there should be more convenient turnouts upon that road. As to the supervisor turning water upon the land of a private individual (Mr. Mensch or Mr. Loreman), we have nothing to do with that; we consider only the public interests.

A Reminder.

David Lowenberg having just returned from New York and having purchased his Fall Stock, is now prepared to offer the latest styles in gentlemen's wear, and invites an early inspection of the new goods.

Change of Mail Locks.

On October 1st the Postoffice Department will substitute a new general lock for those now in use. The new lock, which is made of corrugated steel, is lighter, stronger, and safer than that now in use, and is manufactured by the Smith & Egge Lock Company, of Connecticut. For several months a number of clerks in the mail equipment division of the Postoffice Department have been testing the new locks and keys, and distributing them throughout the country. Fifty thousand keys were sent out to postmasters and other persons authorized to hold them, in separate registered letters, and the efficiency of the registry system is shown by the fact that they were all properly delivered. When the receipts for the keys had been returned, 200,000 were distributed among the heads of star routes, the termini of railway routes, and depositories. The work has just been completed and the new lock will go into use October 1st. The change in mail locks is made but once in ten years.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

PARALYSIS, NINE YEARS.

"After having suffered for 9 years with paralysis," says Mr. Joseph Yates, of Paterson, N. Jersey, "I was cured by Samaritan Nervine." Mr. Yates authorizes this statement. Your druggist keeps it. $1.50.

If your hair is turning gray, don't use the poisonous dyes which burn out its life and produce many diseases of the scalp. Ayer's Hair Vigor is positively harmless, and will restore the natural color of the hair, stimulate its growth, and bring back its youthful gloss and beauty.

OUR REGARDS.

We are glad to say that our daughter, who has been afflicted with Rheumatism for about eight years, is nearly cured from the use of two bottles of Phelps' Rheumatic Elixir. We regard it as an excellent remedy, and anticipate a perfect cure by the time another bottle is taken.

Respectfully, Mr. and Mrs. Stave,
188 Freemont street, Chicago, Ill.

An effective medicine for kidney diseases, low fevers and nervous prostration, and well worthy of a trial, is Brown's Iron Bitters.

GOV. HOYT'S ENDORSEMENT.

Executive Chamber,
Harrisburg, Pa., June 7 1882.

Mr. John H. Phelps, Scranton, Pa., My Dear Sir:—Promptly upon receipt of your Elixir, ten days since, I entered upon its use according to directions, stopping my Iodid Patass., Ammon. and Wine of Colchicum. At that time I was completely disabled with gout in both feet and rheumatism in both knees, and helpless. Now I comfortably hobble about the house, and expect to be out in a week. It may be a coincidence, my amendment and the use of your medicine. I hope for no occasion to try it again, but if need be I will try it again in a fresh attack with great confidence.

Very truly yours, Henry M. Hoyt,
Governor of Pennsylvania.

Rheumatic Syrup Co:
Butler, N. Y., Feb. 25, '82.

Gents—I wish to express my appreciation of your wonderful remedy for the cure of rheumatism, dyspepsia and general debility. I have been a great sufferer from that terrible disease—rheumatism—for more than a year, and could get no rest or relief day or night for the whole time. Like almost everybody else similarly afflicted, I tried many different remedies, and consulted a number of physicians. But getting only temporary relief from any of these sources, I almost despaired of ever again being restored to my normal condition, and once more free from pain. At this time, hearing so many recommend your Rheumatic Syrup as an infallible cure for rheumatism, and knowing that they had been troubled the same as myself and were now permanently cured by the use of your remedy, I was inspired by their unbounded faith in its healing powers, and resolved to test its efficacy in my own case; and the result of it all is, that after taking four bottles, my rheumatism had all disappeared, and now, thanks to your Rheumatic Syrup. I feel like a new man, and cheerfully recommend the Rheumatic Syrup to all who are suffering with rheumatism.

John Reynolds.

A Busy Lawyer.

In the U. S. Circuit Court at Williamsport on Monday, the case of Elisha A. Packer vs. Ira T. Clement, relating to coal land, in which Hon. S. P. Wolverton is interested for one of the parties, was called for trial. Mr. Wolverton asked that it be continued, and assigned, among other reasons, that "unfortunately he was a member of the Legislature and could not command his time." Mr. Wolverton also said that court commenced at Sunbury this week; there were forty-five cases on the calandar and his name appeared as counsel for thirty-four. Judge Linn, who appeared as counsel for the plaintiff, asked that the trial might come on but the court finally granted a continuance.—Sunbury News, of last week.

Rushmore, O.—Dr. A. Page, says: "I have prescribed Brown's Iron Bitters in several instances, and in each case obtained good results."

Rheumatic SYRUP.
The Greatest Blood Purifier Known!

Rheumatism Cured.

Rochester, N. Y., Apr. 6th, '83.
Rheumatic Syrup Co.:

Gents—I have been a great sufferer from Rheumatism for six years, and hearing of the success of Rheumatic Syrup I concluded to give it a trial in my own case, and I cheerfully say that I have been greatly benefitted by its use. I can walk with entire freedom from pain, and my general health is very much improved. It is a splendid remedy for the blood and debilitated system.

Scrofula Cured.

Port Byron, N. Y., Feb. 26, '82.
Rheumatic Syrup Co.:

I had been doctoring for three or four years, with different physicians, for scrofula, as some called it, but found no relief until I commenced taking your Syrup. After taking it a short time, to my surprise, it began to help me. Continuing its use a few weeks, I found myself as well as ever. As a blood purifier, I think it has no equal.

Mrs. William Strang.

Neuralgia Cured.

Fairport, N. Y., March 12, '83.
Rheumatic Syrup Co.:

Gents—Since November, 1882, I have been a constant sufferer from neuralgia and have not known what it was to be free from pain until I commenced the use of Rheumatic Syrup. I have felt no pain since using the fourth bottle. I think it is the best remedy I have ever heard of for purifying the blood and for the cure of rheumatism and neuralgia.

RULES AND REGULATIONS.

1. All persons having articles on exhibition or competition must secure Exhibitor's checks of the Association before entering them.
2. Minors can become exhibitors when their parents have Exhibitor's checks.
3. The field of competition is open to all. Persons from other counties and States can become exhibitors on the same terms as citizens of this county.
4. All articles offered for competition must be owned by the competitor for 30 days. Fruits, vegetables, flowers, &c., must be grown by the competitor, and all manufactured articles must be made by the competitor.
5. No horse or mare will be eligible to enter Farmers' List or County Sporting List, under trials of speed, unless owned by the competitor thirty days previous to the Fair.
6. All stock entered must be what it is represented to be, or premiums will be forfeited.
7. All articles for exhibition or competition must be entered by five o'clock, p. m., on Wednesday the 10th, and no animals or articles entered for exhibition can be taken away before the close of the Fair, except by permission of Committee, and no premiums will be paid on violation of the rule, except exhibitors of horses, mares, or geldings, shall not be required to keep their animals on the ground at night, during the Fair, but must have them on the ground by 8 o'clock each day.
8. No gambling or game of chance of any kind whatever will be allowed upon or in the vicinity of the Fair grounds. And for the purpose of preventing the admission of any person to the grounds with games of chance, and to provide for the expulsion of any who shall by any means gain admission, there will be a license granted to all persons entering with exhibitions or for the purpose of selling any articles, by the Librarian of the association, at his discretion, if the object of admission is lawful and proper, upon the payment of such sum as he may determine, which license shall be forfeited and the holder thereof driven from the grounds immediately upon the detection by the Librarian, or upon information given him by any person, of the practice of any game of chance or gambling by the person holding such license. And without license as aforesaid, no person will be permitted to give an exhibition of any kind for personal profit, or expose any article for sale upon the grounds.
9. No license will be granted to stands that sell spirituous or malt liquors.
10. Caution:—All articles exhibited, whether eatables or not, must be respected as private property; and any person detected in purloining or injuring them, will be dealt with according to law.
11. Judges appointed to examine the different classes, will confer a favor on the Association by calling at the Secretary's office early on Thursday morning to obtain instructions.
12. The reports of the several Judges must be passed upon and approved by the Revising Committee before orders will be drawn for premiums.
13. Premiums awarded to persons residing out of the town of Bloomsburg, will be paid on the afternoon of the last day of the Fair, by the Treasurer, on presentation of their proper orders.

On Wednesday the grounds will be open to the public and continue open four days.

No person will be admitted to vote at the next annual election of the Association without producing his membership ticket.

Exhibitors will confer a favor on the society by sending a classed list of the articles they wish to exhibit, to the Secretary, as early as possible, that they may be entered previous to the first day of the Fair. Or, leave them at the office of T. Jeff. Vandersllce, where they will be called for.

The Highest Authority.

UPON A SUBJECT OF VITAL INTEREST, EFFECTING THE WELFARE OF ALL.

The following remarkable letter from one of the leading and best known scientific writers of the present day is specially significant, and should be of unusual value to all readers who desire to keep pace with the march of modern discoveries and events:

"A general demand for reformation is one of the most distinctive characteristics of the nineteenth century. The common people, as well as the more enlightened and refined, cry out with no uncertain voice to be emancipated from the slavery of conservatism and superstition which has held the masses in gross ignorance during a large portion of the world's history, and in the time of the 'Dark Ages' came near obliterating the last glimmer of truth. Dogmatic assertions and blind empiricism are losing caste among all classes of all countries. People are beginning to think for themselves, and to regard authority much less than argument. Men and women are no longer willing that a few individuals should dictate to them what must be their sentiments and opinions. They claim the right to solve for themselves the great questions of the day and demand that the general good of humanity shall be respected. As the result of this general awakening, we see, on every hand, un mistakable evidences of reformatory action. People who, a few years ago, endured suffering the most intense in the name of duty, now realize the utter foolishness of such a course. Men who were under the bondage of bigoted advisers allowed their health to depart; suffered their constitutions to become undermined and finally died as martyrs to a false system of treatment. There millions of people filling untimely are graves who might have lived to a green old age had their original troubles been taken in time or properly treated. There are thousands of people to-day, thoughtlessly enduring the first symptoms of some serious malady and without the slightest realization of the danger that is before them. They have occasional headaches; a lack of appetite one day and a ravenous one the next, or an unaccountable feeling of weariness, sometimes accompanied by nausea and attribute all these troubles to the old idea of a slight cold' or malaria. It is high time that people awoke to a knowledge of the seriousness of these matters and emancipated themselves from the professional bigotry which controls them. When this is done and when all classes of physicians become liberal enough to exclude all dogmas, save that it is their duty to cure disease as quickly, and as safely as possible; to maintain no other positions than that of truth honestly ascertained, and to endorse and recommend any remedy that has been found useful, no matter what its origin, there will be no more quarreling among the doctors, while there will be great rejoicing throughout the world."

"I am well aware of the censure that will be meted out to me for writing this letter but I feel that I cannot be true to my honest convictions unless I extend a helping hand and endorse all I know to be good. The extended publications for the past few years, and graphic descriptions of different diseases of the kidneys and liver have awakened the medical profession to the fact that these diseases are greatly increasing. The treatment of the doctors has been largely experimental and many of their patients have died while they were casting about for a remedy to cure them.'

"It is now two years since my attention was first called to the use of a most wonderful preparation in the treatment of Bright's disease of the kidneys. Patients had frequently asked me about the remedy and I had heard of remarkable cures effected by it, but like many others I hesitated to recommend its use. A personal friend of mine had been in poor health for some time and his application for insurance on his life had been rejected on account of Bright's disease. Chemical and microscopical examination of his urine revealed the presence of large quantities of albumen and granular tube casts, which confirmed the correctness of the diagnosis. After trying all the usual remedies, I directed him to use this preparation and was greatly surprised to observe a decided improvement within a month, and within four months, no tube casts could be discovered. At that time there was present only a trace of albumen, and he felt as he expressed it, 'perfectly well,' and all through the influence of Warner's Safe Cure, the remedy he used.

"After this I prescribed this medicine in full doses in both acute and chronic nephritis, [Bright's disease] and with the most satisfactory results. My observations were neither small in number nor hastily made. They extended over several months and embraced a large number of cases which have proved so satisfactory to my mind, that I would earnestly urge upon my professional brethren the importance of giving a fair and patient trial to Warner's Safe Cure. In a large class of ailments where the blood is obviously in an unhealthy state, especially where glandular engorgements and inflammatory eruptions exist, indeed in many of those forms of chronic indisposition in which there is no evidence of organic mischief, but where the general health is depleted, the face sallow, the urine colored, constituting the condition in which the patient is sain to be 'bilious,' the advantage gained by the use of this remedy is remarkable. In Bright's disease it seems to act as a solvent of albumen; to soothe and heal the inflamed membranes; to wash out the eipthelial debris which blocks up the tubuli uniferi, and to prevent a destructive metamorphosis of tissue".

"Belonging as I do to a branch of the profession that believes that no one school of medicine knows all the truth regarding the treatment of disease, and being independent enough to select any remedy that will relieve my patients, without reference to the source from whence it comes, I am glad to acknowledge and commend the merits of this remedy thus frankly.

Respectfully yours,
R. A. GUNN, M. D.

Dean and Professor of Surgery, United States Medical College of New York; editor of Medical Tribune; Author of Gunn's New and Improved Hand-Book of Hygiene and Domestic Medicine, etc., etc.

Before the close of the year the Scottish Meteorological Society will probably have an observatory in complete working order on the summit of Ben Nevis, the highest land in the British Isles. A sum of more than £4,500 has already been subscribed for the establishing of this station, the list of subscribers includes Queen Victoria, the Prince of Wales, and all classes of British subjects. The work which will be done on Ben Nevis will doubtless be of great value to meteorological science.

Philadelphia Papers.

THE HANDSOME PROFITS THAT SOME OF THEM ARE SAID TO BE MAKING.

A correspondent thus writes of Philadelphia newspapers: The Ledger is worth a clean thousand dollars a day to Mr. Childs above what it costs. The Times divides over a thousand dollars a year among those who have stock in it. The Record, at its low price of one cent, makes forty or fifty thousand dollars a year. I hear that it costs the owner some twenty thousand dollars a year more for the blank paper than he gets for the printed sheets. The profit is in advertising, which is enormous, on account of the large circulation. The Sunday edition of the paper has caught on well. The Press, which has not made money for some years, may do so this year. Somebody there has been cutting off a lot of unnecessary extravagance without impairing the paper, and it wouldn't be much of a surprise if it got ahead some. The Inquirer, which one rarely sees anywhere and never hears of, is making money, but nobody but Harding knows how much. The North American, with its load of commercial advertising makes from $12,000 to $15,000 a year. The evening papers are contented with less. The Telegraph and the Bulletin lead the business, but one wonders how long the public is going to want double-sheet afternoon papers at 3 cents when so much can be had for 2 cents. The extra cent is a drawback to the circulation. The Evening News felt this. It was struggling along on a small circulation at 2 cents. When it reduced to 1 cent it shot up immediately. If it is not now leading all the other afternoon papers it is pressing the best of them very close. There are six afternoon papers now printed here and their aggregate circulation does not exceed twenty-five thousand.

St. Vitus Dance.

St. Vitus Dance (Chorea) is characterized by an irregular contraction of the voluntary muscles. This contraction is at first confined to a few muscles on one side of the upper part of the body, perhaps even to those of the finger. It gradually extends, until most of the voluntary muscles of the upper extremeties, and less often those of the lower extremeties and the trunk are affected. In rare cases, especially in adults, the movements are exceedingly and dangerously violent. In the less violent, they may impair speech, render locomotion and the necessary acts of life impossible. They may also produce the most ludicrous grimances and the most grotesque gesticulations. The appetite is apt to be poor and the temper irritible. Sometimes the mind is temporarily impaired. Though the disease may occur even in infancy and extreme old age, yet it is mainly confined within the ages of ten and fifteen. It is a very much more frequent occurrence in girls than in boys. Its cause is not certain. In most cases there has been found to be a deficiency in the red globules of the blood. Fright, a fit of anger and other excitements have brought on an attack. As to its duration, it "varies from a few weeks to several months. The average duratien is from two to three months. In the vast majority of cases the termination is in recovery. In a very small proportion of cases it becomes chronic and is incurable. Relapses are apt to occur after intervals varying from a few months to two or three years. As a rule, the relapses are shorter than the primary attacks." As to remedies, all known causes must first be removed, ample nutrition, daily exposure, and, if practicable, exercise in the open air, should be secured, and a physician should prescribe the medicine that should be used.—Youth's Companion.

Merits and Demerits of Cheese.

So far as fat is concerned, beef has three times as much as bread, and cheese ten times as much as beef, and so far as muscle forming constituents are concerned, beef is three times as valuable as bread, and cheese once and a half as nutritious as beef. The great defect in cheese as food is that there is not any starch in it. This defect is remedied by using it in connection with bread, an article which abounds in starch. Hence the custom of the English laborer, dictated by nature and confirmed by science, of eating bread and cheese for his luncheon while working in the field. Cheese, which in a state of health and vigorous appetite may be eaten in large quantities and comparative impunity, is a substance that in no form should be given to or partaken of by an invalid, or one with weak digestion. Cheese, when toasted becomes little better than so much leather. Cheese when it is old and the process of decomposition has commenced is used by some as a prompter of digestion. If cheese aids digestion when old or mouldy, it is on the principle that it contains the seeds of decay, which it communicates to other food in the stomach. The celebrated Requefort cheese of France is cured in damp caverns where the mould quickly grows.

Thomas Jefferson when President of the United States, was presented with a cheese that weighed 1600 pounds by the people of Cheshire, Mass.

WHITE LILIES IN THE HOUSE.—To raise Lilies successfully in the house, it is necessary to keep in mind that they are plants that like their cool and shady places. It will not do to try to force them into bloom by subjecting them to a high temperature. The best White Lilies for pot culture are L. longiflorum and L. speciousum album. The proper time for potting is during the fall months. An excellent soil can be prepared by using equal parts of leaf-mould, good loam and old cow manure taken from the pastures, and that has leached and dried; all these should be well mixed together. Use an eight or ten inch pot, place in it about an inch of drainage, and then fill in soil one-third the depth of the pot, set the bulb in the centre, and fill in soil to the top of it, and then cover it with about an inch of sand, and, lastly, more soil to a half an inch of the top. Give water and set the pot away in the cellar to stand until spring, or until the shoots begin to push. Do not allow the soil to become quite dry. When the plant begins to push through the soil take it where it can have the light of the sun, but not a strong heat. As soon as buds appear remove it to a place rather shady, or where it can have the sun only morning and evening, but plenty of air. Here it can bloom, and in this condition should be liberally supplied with water. After blooming, the plant should be set where it will get the sun and ripen.—Vick's Magazine.

"Mercy!" exclaimed Mrs. F., as she caught sight of the camelopard, "just look at that beast; what a long neck!" "Yes," replied Fogg, "the most remarkable case of soar throat I ever saw."

Condition of Corn.

The corn crop in both Deleware and Chester Counties is the finest that has been raised for years, and about husking time, when the reports come in, some enormous yields of bushels per acre will be looked for. Just now the crop is ripening, and a few "early birds" are already applying the knife to the stalks. The experience of some farmers is better for the cows when cut green. The majority, however, argue against this method, and say that the increased quantity of fodder cannot make up for the loss in green or unripe ears of corn, commonly called "nubbins."

One of the finest fields of corn in Delaware County is that of Thomas Swayne, in Aston. The field contains eighteen acres, and the corn, too, is planted in hills four feet apart. The work was done by farmer John Wood, who ploughed the ground in April, harrowed it over four times, and drilled in equal quantities of South Carolina rock and a well-known make of phosphate. The ground was marked out both ways with the plough, and the seed planted on the 15th and 16th of May, no fertilizer of any kind being used in the hills. The crop seemed to start a little slow at first, but when the warm days of June came it fairly jumped, and grew as if by magic, and continued growing through July and August. The entire field is good, and the yield of bushels to the acre is expected to outstrip anything in this vicinity for years.

The success of Mr. Wood's method completely kills the theory of those who have asserted that fertilizers "to pay" on corn must be dropped in the hill; if not, the following crop receives the greater benefit. Mr. Wood's idea of driling the phosphate in the ground was regarded by many good farmers as an experiment, and few thought the result of it would be the greatest field of corn in the country.

Advertising Cheats!!!

"It has become so common to write the beginning of an article, in an elegant, interesting manner,

"Then run it into some advertisement that we avoid all such.

"And simply call attention to the merits of Hop Bitters in as plain, honest terms as possible,

"To induce people

"To give them one trial, which so proves their value that they will never use anything else."

THE REMEDY so favorably noticed in all the papers,

"Religious and secular, is

"Having a large sale, and is supplanting all other medicines.

"There is no denying the virtues of the Hop plant and the proprietors of Hop Bitters have shown great shrewdness

"And ability

"In compounding a medicine whose virtues are so palpable to every one's observation."

Did She Die!

"No!

'She lingered and suffered along, pining away all the time for years,'

"The doctors doing her no good;"

"And at last was cured by this Hop Bitters the papers say so much about."

"Indeed! Indeed!"

"How thankful we should be for that medicine."

A Daugter's Misery.

"Eleven years our daughter suffered on a bed of misery,

"From a complication of kidney, liver, rheumatic trouble and Nervous debility,

"Under the care of the best physicians,

"Who gave her disease various names,

"But no relief,

"And now she is restored to us in good health by as simple a remedy as Hop Bitters, that we had shunned for years before using it."—THE PARENTS.

Father is Getting well.

"My daughters say:

"How much better father is since he used Hop Bitters."

"He is getting well after his long suffering from a disease declared incurable,"

"And we are so glad that he used your Bitters."

A LADY of Utica, N. Y.

Put a Brand on Him.

"Women are a necessary evil," he said, bringing down his fist hard on the counter to emphasize the heartless remark. It was in the village store at West Milton, Saratoga County, and the speaker was the central figure of a group of bucholic philosophers. He was homely, slovenly and sixty."

"There's where I differ from you altogether," said Mr. George T. Graham, of the same place. "Women are mostly what men make 'em. When husbands are brutes wives will fall into submission or make home hot for the men; and they're unnatural in either character. Love them, and especially be good to them when they're sick, and you'll have no trouble. There's my wife, now. She's suffered a good deal with dyspepsia, nervous prostration and other ailments that took the bloom off her cheeks and the spring out of her steps. Well, she saw an advertisement of PARKER'S TONIC, and thought it would be just the thing for her case. Gentlemen, I sent five miles after a bottle. She took it. I sent again after more. So several times. Trouble? why, if you could see how much good it has done her you would say that women are the greatest of God's blessings, and PARKER'S TONIC is the next."

This preparation, which has been known as PARKER'S GINGER TONIC, will hereafter be called simply PARKER'S TONIC. This change has been rendered necessary by substitutes imposed upon their customers by unprincipled dealers under the name of ginger; and as ginger is really an unimportant flavoring ingredient, we drop the misleading word.

There is no change, however, in the preparation itself, and all bottles remaining in the hands of dealers, wrapped under the name of PARKER'S GINGER TONIC contain the genuine medicine if the facsimile signature of Hiscox & Co., is at the bottom under outside wrapper.

HAY FEVER.

For years I have been afflicted with Hay Fever from early in August until frost. I gave Ely's Cream Balm a trial. The relief was immediate. I regard myself cured. C. SCHREIBER, Supt. of Co.dage Co, Elizabeth, N. J.

Apply by little finger into the nostrils. By absorption it effectually cleanses the nasal passages of catarrhal virus, causing healthy secretions. It allays inflammation, protects the membranal linings of the head from additional colds, completely heals the sores and restores the sense of taste and smell. Beneficial results are realized by a few applications. A thorough treatment will cure. Unequaled for colds in head. Agreeable to use. Send for circular. Sold by druggists. By mail 50c. a package—stamps.

PURE INDIA TEAS.

Absolutely pure. They contain no spurious or exhausted leaves. No Chemicals or Coloring Matter used in their preparation. Very valuable for mixing with weaker China teas. They contain a very high percentage of Extract. They are cultivated under the supervision of foreigners, upon the most approved methods. The leaf is manipulated by machinery, giving uniformity of appearance throughout entire pluckings. They retain their valuable qualities for an unusual length of time. JOHN C. PHILLIPS & CO., 130 Water St., New York. Agents of the Calcutta Tea Syndicate.

HAY-FEVER.

I can recommend Ely's Cream Balm to all Hay Fever sufferers, it being, in my opinion, founded upon experience and a sure cure. I was afflicted with Hay Fever for 25 years, and never before found permanent relief. WEBSTER H. HASKINS, Marshfield, Vt.

SPEER'S

PORTUGAL GRAPE WINE

Also

UNFERMENTED GRAPE JUICE.

Used in the principal Churches for Communion. Excellent for Females, Weakly Persons and the aged.

EXCELLENT FOR FEMALES AND WEAKLY PERSONS.

Speer's Port Grape Wine!

FOUR YEARS OLD.

THIS CELEBRATED WINE is the pure juice of the dead ripe Oporto Grape, raised in Speer's vineyards. Its invaluable.

Tonic and Strengthening Properties are unsurpassed by any other Wine. Being produced under Mr. Speer's own personal supervision, its purity and genuineness are guaranteed by the principal Hospitals and Boards of Health who have examined it. The youngest child may partake of it, and the weakest invalid use it to advantage. It is particularly beneficial to the aged and debilitated, and suited to the various ailments that affect the weaker sex.

It is in every respect A WINE TO BE RELIED ON.

Speer's Unfermented Grape Juice.

Is the juice of the Oporto Grapes preserved in its natural, fresh, sweet state as it runs from the press by fumigation, thereby destroying the exciter of fermentation. It is perfectly pure, free from spirits and will keep in any climate.

Speer's Burgundy.

Is a dark rich medium Dry Wine used by the wealthy classes as a Table or Dinner Wine, and by physicians in cases where a dry wine instead of a sweet port is desired.

Speer's (Socialite) Claret.

Is held in high estimation for its richness as a Dry Table Wine especially suited for dinner use.

Speer's P. J. Sherry.

Is a wine of Superior Character and partakes of the rich qualities of the grape from which it is made.

Speer's P. J. Brandy.

IS A PURE distillation from the grape, and stands unrivalled in this Country for medicinal purposes.

It has a peculiar flavor, similar to that of the grapes from which it is distilled.

See that the signature of ALFRED SPEER, Passaic N. J., is over the cork of each bottle.
